UNCLE SAM'S TROOPS.Different Departments Which Have to Look After the "Boys in Blue"—Desire to Increase the Present Force.The United States army as a regular establishment was limited to 25-000 men exclusive of departmental corps, before the recent act of Congress increasing it to over 100,000. At its head were three major generals and six brigadier generals. The senior major general, Nelson A. Miles, is commander in chief. The others and the brigadiers commanded departments. The adjutant general and his staff conduct all correspondence, keep records and have the general management of recruiting. The inspector general's department is charged with supervision of every branch of the service, and responsible for its efficiency. The quartermaster general has control of the clothing, forage, transport, quarters and everything necessary for an army in the field, except what is eaten by the men, or needed for the care of the sick and wounded.A regular subsistence department feeds the army, and does it in such a businesslike way that, according to Secretary Stanton, "this branch of the service never failed" during the four years of civil war, when it disbursed something like $362,000,000. The medical, pay and ordnance departments, the engineering bureau, organized on a plan that renders them capable of almost illimitable expansion in emergency.The engineer corps, which dates from the time of Washington, may claim to be the source of all military organization in the states. It founded West Point, the best military academy in the world, and managed it until the rebellion of 1861 led people to think that engineers with their "extra caution on the side of safety" were not the men to cope with the active and dashing leaders, who did not stop to count costs when they had an object to attain. In its present form the engineering department is excellently qualified by scientific acquirements and practical training for every duty that may be demanded of it in the field.In addition to all this there is the militia, which is capable of being raised to a mighty host numerically in time, but it cannot be counted upon for the first shock of war. General Wesley Merritt has given it as his opinion that though the militia of the United States will answer well the purpose of a second line in case of emergency, "it is not now and it never has been in the first days of a war fit to take the field." He holds, as a good patriot should, "that there is not an army in the world that can defeat an equally strong American army prepared with proper drill and discipline. But these take time, and neither Ukase of Czar, Bull of Pope, nor Act of Congress, can make an army without them."A ROYAL RESCUE.On May 27 Emperor William resended a woman bicyclist from death in one of the busiest streets of Berlin.
He jumped out of his carriage to assist her, and caused the cabman who was responsible for the accident to be arrested. He also sent an aide de camp to accompany the woman to her home.HAD MANY AILMENTS."For years I have been taking medicines for liver complaint, heart trouble and nervous prostration, but three bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. I heartily recommend it to others." Mrs. S. A.
Judd, Vernon, Michigan.HOOD'S PILLS are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.
Easy, yet efficient.

Fruit.The Guava, like the Mango, a fruit which furnishes food for many a people throughout all tropical countries, possesses medicinal virtues which are certainly beneficial. A famous English writer, in treating on the subject, stated that the Almighty might have made a better fruit, but if so it had not been discovered.GuavaWithin our shores we grow a bountiful supply of these fruits, and as their value is well known the introduction of the name is sufficient to insure the endorsement of most all who have indulged in eating the fruit.CordialWe have prepared a Cor-

Guava which cannot be surpassed for correcting bowel children. The taste is quite pleasant.Corrects.Most bowel correctants pro-
